Any DVD Shrink v1.2.8 + serial [TrT-TcT] keygen 7459 Dvd Decrypter 3.5.4.0 - DVD Shrink 3.2.0.15 - Ripit4me 1.7.1.0 crack 9077 DVD shrink . . Any DVD Shrink v1.2.8 + serial [TrT-TcT] keygen 7459 Dvd Decrypter 3.5.4.0 - DVD Shrink 3.2.0.15 - Ripit4me 1.7.1.0 crack 9077 DVD shrink . The other one always returns my program error. A: I had the same problem in v1.3.1.1, fixed by uninstalling, and then reinstalling the latest version - v1.3.4.1. You have to pay particular attention to the instructions on the manual, but essentially you have to remove the v1.3.1.1 folder in Program Files, uninstall it from the Control Panel, and then remove the registry key from HKEY_CURRENT_USER\Software\CodecFV\Input HKEY_CURRENT_USER\Software\CodecFV\Output Then delete the folder in Program Files. You should be able to reinstall and it will work as normal. This happened to me on a partition I only have access to via a vhd file, so double-backup anything important, then delete the v1.3.1.1 folder, remove the registry key, and reinstall v1.3.4.1. Note: the instructions above might be a little out of date - there was a new version released on Jan 23rd, so i hope the above instructions will still work. A: The easiest way is to uninstall the program and reinstall with the latest version. How to uninstall: Open Control Panel and go to Apps and Features and remove the program from there Right-click on the program, select Uninstall What to do if you didn't install it from the official website: Go to the compatibility tab, scroll down a bit and choose "This program is installed in the following location: {drive location}". What to do if it is already installed:
