A: you should check the following things: Check the DHCP server and client settings Check whether the client has the IP address of the DHCP server. Check the DHCP server settings: Q: Positioning Images in ImageViews I have tried to position the images in a way that resembles what the code below does. i want my images to align in the middle of the image view and to be positioned like this in the code but i get a horrible result. the images don't align in the middle and it doesn't resemble the code. how can i go about making it look like the first code example?
